Since for students of a most instructive nature, both the Court and Panti promunciations given, the accents being carefully marked the best principle hitherto attained. The geography displays the success of an attempt made to give the English type perfectness to the shape of body, thereby offering a convenience of space, achieving a clear economy of space, achieving a clear economy of space, and dispensing with the vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications.

The purpose of the work is so great, and utilitarian scope so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person to understand English to communicate effect with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be of use.

indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it claims subjects fully, with which very few of them are perfectly acquainted. Parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasions. It comprises upwards of two thousand 1 quarto pages.
